YOEMEN LOSE DISTRICT 31 TITLE

"Our Town"

by J. B. WHITE

A study of the conditions of life back in 1621 when the Pilgrim Fathers held their first observance of Thanksgiving, suggests but meager reasons for the ardent spirit of gratitude that glowed in the hearts of the first settlers. Their huts were built upon rocky land and before them was the merciless sea, beating upon a stern coast. At their backs was the wilderness, where savages and beasts lurked, an ever-present menace to life.

But the harvest that year had been good. There was an assurance of sufficient food for the long, hard winter, and this certainty of the means of sustaining life was considered by these simple, hardy people, whose material needs were so few, as sufficient cause for public thanksgiving.

What a contrast the present day offers! We have suffered reverses, it is true, but still we enjoy relative comfort and freedom from the specter of starvation.

Our problems during late years have been serious and disheartening. Many have yielded to the influences of despair and desperation but, for the most part, the fires of faith have been kept burning and, through hard struggle and faltering steps, we have returned to the upward path of progress.

The future, while not glowing ie nevertheless brighter. The worst is behind us and somewhere off the horizon, is an America that conforms more closely to our hopes and ambitions.

The Christmas buying season is on us. The next few weeks see the peak of retaill trade. A great new buying power is about to be turned into the commercial stream. It should lift business to a new level.

Much depends on what the peopie decide to do with their money. Will they feel some sentiment of loyalty to their home town? Will they say that so far as they can, they would like to spend that money at home?

If they take that attitude a powerful boost will be given to Cameron, the effect of which will be felt for months. The money thus spent will put our home town business on a firmer foundation, it will permit our old debts to be cleaned up, new stocks to be put in, more people to be employed in our local stores, more done to make our community a business and trading center.

Our people should also think whether the way they spend this money is going to be unfair to our business people. If those who have money to spend wait until the last week or two before the holiday, we shall as usual see a grand rush at the stores and post office, which will impose a severe burden on all these workers, and is an expensive and uneconomic way of doing business. Let us resolve to buy early, and buy at home, and if we do that the holiday season will be a happy one for us.

There is a sort of adding insult to injury tone about a report submitted to the American College of Surgeons at San Francisco the other day stating that from forty to sixty is a dangerous age for receiving bumps on the head. People in that age classification, as one would think, have enough on their minds without the wory, gratiously presented, that they are not properly equipped to receive a bat on the cranium.

Obviously that twenty year span is a dangerous age. From it one looks backward on youth and forward upon old age. It is a period in which insurance statisticians disclose, they are disposed to step out from motor cars into traffic without looking to right or left.

And now the report to the surgeons of America say it is a dangerous age for bumps on the head, that people

Pay Old Age Pensions Says Jesse James Who Wrote Texas Tax Bill

"We are going to pay the old age pension," said Representative Jesse James who wrote the Texas tax bill in a special session, as he left Cameron for Austin to resume work.

"I consider it my sacred duty to work for the payment of the old age pension and am making it my principal effort in the coming session to see that this legislation is properly supported by revenue so that no aged person in Milam county or anywhere in Texas will be deprived of what they are justly entitled under the pension law."

Mr. James authorized the statement that he would favor a selective sales tax to pay the old age Pension. He has been uncompromising in his stand against a sales tax, but now finds that a selective sales tax can and should be levied to pay this pension. He is still opposed to a general sales tax.

"I agreed to sign the conference report to bring in a bill for selective sales tax," said Mr. James, but could not get another house member to sign with me. I wanted to provide for revenue to pay the old age pension at this session."

Mr. James is author of the chain store tax bill enacted by the first called session. He is a member and vice chairman of the important committee on revenue and taxation and with Representative Hollis Frazier wrote the omnibus tax bill that passed the house. Mr. James was disappointed that the bill did not reach final passage and provide revenue for the Texas aged.

Mr. James explained that the selective sales tax bill he now proposes will not be a tax upon the poor of Texas but will bring under levy the so called special interests like oil and sulphur and utilities and will raise enough money to pay the pension.

He said that the oil companies had already agreed to the levy he proposes which is a small unit of levy but when exacting its total there will be enough money for all old age pension purposes and no one will be penalized by high taxes.

The omnibus bill embraces about 30 different levies and is the largest revenue measure ever writen by a house member or passed in the lgislature.

Those who benefit from old age pensions in Milam county are fortunate in having Mr. James in such an important position in the house of Representatives. In the coming issues the Herald will have more to say about these bills and Mr. James.

"She Married Her Boss" Colbert Film Opening at Cameron Theatre Sunday

Everyone has been waiting to see the inimitable Claudette Colbert do another picture of the same type as "It Happened One Night," which not only won for her the official tag of "the best actress of 1934" but also brought high honors to the director, the scenarist, the co-star, and the producer.

Since making that immortal film, Miss Colbert has not been with Columbia, the company that produced it. But recently she returned to that studio to star in another light comedy, "She Married Her Boss," which finds its way to the Cameron Theatre Sunday.

True, Miss Colbert has appeared in dramatic successes in the interim, "Imitation of Life" and "Private Worlds," but she enjoys comedy a great deal and so enables her audiences to enjoy it with her. Gregory LaCava, who directed Miss Colbert in "Private Worlds," her last big success, worked with her again on "She Married Her Boss."

The theme of her new picture easily lends itself to buoyancy and charm. Miss Colbert is seen as a painfully efficient secretary to a young man with a bad digestion and a memory of a recent marital experience that turned sour. Melvyn Douglas is the bitter boss. But while Miss Colbert sympathizes with his dyspepsia she is rather impatient with his views on marriage, for she finds herself in love with him.

The home of the boss, who is the active owner of a large metropolitan department store, is in a sad state of affairs. A neurotic sister and a spoiled, precious 9 year old daughter do everything in their power to make his life miserable.

The household itself is thoroughly demoralized.

Then again, he suspects that his secretary, whom he just can't do without, has been receiving generous overtures from other firms. So he decides it would be a good idea to marry her.

But the secretary has no intention of being majordomo both at home and at the office, and gives up business for domesticity, much to the boss' chagrin. In time of course, the secretary divines his real reason for marrying her, and then the fur begins to fly.

Prevention of accidents on the farm and in the home, a nation wide movement sponsored by the Junior Red Cross, was discussed at a meeting of school superintendents and teachers here Monday night.

The meeting was held in the Yoe High School Building. Mrs. Bessie Hefley is president of the movement here.

FUMBLE IS FATAL FRI.

Yoemen lost to Belton Friday night in a game that was as bitterly contested as any gridiron event in the history of the conference.

But for a fourth quarter error in fumbling the ball on the two yard line the game might have been a tie, although in the last minute of the play the Yoemen took the ball on their own 15 yard line and carried it on two successive plays to the 11 yard line.

The play by play report is in error on the play that netted the lone Tiger touchdown. The score came when Joe McLean sought to pick up a punted ball and fumbled and Belton recovered. A pass from Vannoy to Sherrod netted the touchdown.

Cameron lost the game and the conference. If the Yoemen had won the teams would have been tied for first place. The game:

Smith kickedto Davis on Cameron's 5 yard line and he made a 25 yard return of the punt.

Cameron's Ball

Joe McLean got four yards at center and failed to gain at right tackle. Joe failed to gain at left tackle and kicked on the next play to Miller on Belton's 30 yard line who made a 4 yard return of the punt.

Belton's Ball

Smith hit center for 4 yards. Vannoy was stopped for no gain by Shirley McLean at left end. A pass from Vannot to Dugger was good for a first down. The play was called back.

CORRELATED WORK

The Seventh Grade history and geography has been combined into one study and it is called social studies. It has proved most interesting to the students thus far.

Our first unit of study was Early Civilizations. We studied Asia in this unit and located the body of water around which civilization centered. We studied the physical conditions of the old world and saw the effect they had on early civilization and how they caused the discovery of the new world.

This led to unit No. two which was Explorations and Discoveries. We found through the study of European countres, France, Spain and Portugal why each exploer ventured to the new world. There was an interesting project on this unit. Each child acted as an explorer and gave full account of his exploration. Darnell Bartlett, a talented young artist in the seventh grade, traced on a map of the world the course each explorer took.

We are now studying unit three: Colonization. We are making a more thorough study of the European countries in order to understand why each country made its particular type of settlement in the new world. The project in this unit is to make the settlenment of Georgetown.

The following is a form of a little newspaper that is published by Miss Griffith and her high first and second grades. "The Chatter" is surely a fine piece of work, we think, and is a credit to these little youngsters.

THE CHATTER

Armistice Day will be here soon—November 11, 1935. Those soldiers that I know are: Mr. Hubbard Faulkner, Mr. Pascal Pogue, Mr. Clarence Baird, Mr. Buddy Yeager, and Mr. Tuff Cummings. We are going to have an Armistice program Monday and want all of the soldiers to come to it.

—Hubbard Faulkner.

We are going to write our news every two weeks. There are three groups to write it. Group number 1 will write it next time. We hope our parents will read these papers.

We are making health books, and the two who have the most different vegetable pictures and the neatest book are to get a prize. The book is a "Vegetable Healthy-O." This little boy has a lettuce stomach, squash hat, peas for his arms, carrot feet, beans for his legs and cabbage for his head.

—Hubbard Faulkner.

Miss Camp gave us some magazines and I am going to thank her for them. We use them in our health work.

In arithmetic we are studying addition by units. Those who passed unit eight and are ready for unit nine are: Elwood Scheer, Della McDaniel, Helen Foyt, Eugenia Isaac, Elde Beutow, Albert Stalte and Lewis Mertz.

—Helen Fojt.

Those who won a prize for spelling and knowing the days of the week in English are: Junior Strader, Elwood Scheer, Eugenia Isac, Della McDaniel, Helen Fojt and Lewis Mertz.

—Elwood Scheer.

Our room went to see the Indian project in Miss Gilchrist's room last Wednesday. The fifth grade made the project. We saw Indian beads, a Pueblo house, Indian dishes, canoes and many other things. We enjoyed seeing the nice things.

—Eugenia Isaac.

We have finished our library. We made most of the furniture. Helen Fojt and Julane Johnson made a magazine rack. Jiggs Seelig made a stool. Elwood Scheer, Albert Stalte, Sammy Hall, Elde Beutow, Eugenia Isaac, and Eugene Wakner made the two bookcases. Della and Edith Jazeseck made a "what not" shelf. Lewis Mertz and Hubbard Faulkner made a flower stand. Eugene and Elwood made a library table. Julane and Earlean made a book rack. There are ten pieces of furniture in all. The library is in one corner of our room. We have some new books two. We enjoy reading in our little library.

—Della McDaniel.

Julene Johnson has gone to south Texas. She will be gone several weeks. We miss her very much.

American Education week is from November 11 to 17. We invite you parents to visit our school during that week.

WILL WE BE ELIGIBLE?

Did you ever stop to think how much eligibility each and every undertaking in life requires? Every single thing you attempt to do requires you to be eligible.

When you are in your class room do you do your part? Are you eligible for its requirements—are you putting something over someone?

In any game of life be eligible in every respect—not only in grades, as we might say—but in personality, faith, sportsmanship, etc. Are you the A-No. 1, or are you trying to gain eligibility, or are you the one who does not care. Don't be the latter—but let us all be the A-No. 1.

Every student in school knows that he has to be passing three fourths of his work in order to be eligible for county meet work. Are you putting forth your greatest effort to be eligible for this event? If you are not, then you should, for after all, that is the largest events during the school term, and we all want to be eligible in order to participate. If you have not already started working for the county meet, start now, because after a while will be too late.

May I ask each student to take all of the above things mentioned into consideration? You do your part and everything will turn out splendidly.

EXPERIMENTS IN MATH WORK

We have our first year algebra class divided into two sections, not on the account of largeness of class, but due to conflicts and experimentation.

One section has its class as of old; board work, seat work, and class discussion.

The other section is given a six weeks assignment, divided into six work units. On completing one unit, the pupil will make application for a test and must score a perfect grade before leaving the work unit; however, he is only retested on the part of the unit in which he failed in the previous test. It will, in some instances, require three or four tests before the perfect score is made. A six weeks test is then given and the grade recorded.

Under this plan the regular class period is a work period with some general discussion, but mostly individual progress.

Each section will take six tests. One section will be weekly tests, the other will be unit tests. Each section will take a six weeks' test made up of the same problems. The grades made on this test will, to some extent determine which group has mastered the six weeks work the better. Of course, however, individual differences will keep the above comparison from being altogether reliable.

UNKNOWN MAN FACES RABIES

Atlantic City, N. J.—Police are seeking an unknown man to warn him that he faces the danger of hydrophobia. He stopped at a wayside lunch wagon between Trenton and here to protect a small dog from a larger animal. A scratch on the hand was dismissed casually but afterwards, the attacking dog developed rabies. Physicians fear that the unknown man will develop rabies unless he takes treatment.

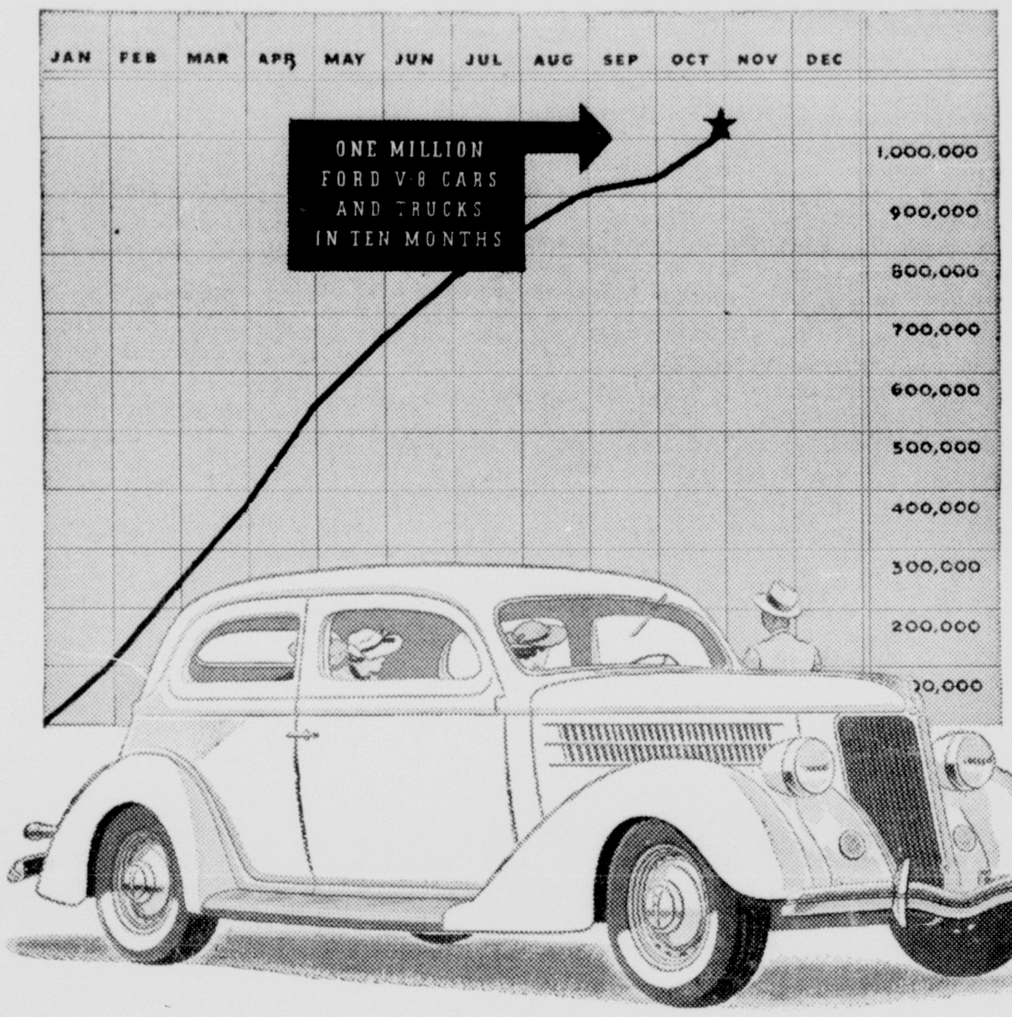
V-8 LEADERSHIP



On October 31 of last year, Henry Ford announced his intention to build a million Ford V-8s in 1935. We are pleased to report that this goal was reached in exactly ten months instead of a full year.

One million cars and trucks is an impressive total. But figures by themselves mean nothing. It is what they represent that counts. Selling a V-8 at a low price has brought a new kind of automobile within reach of the people. Producing it has provided steady work for hundreds of thousands of men in the Ford plants, in associated industries and on the farm.

These million Ford V-8 cars and trucks have helped to make things better all around. In the first ten months of 1935 the Ford Motor Company paid out, in the United States alone, $140,119,326.00 in wages and $523,111,389.00 for materials.

Yoemen Lose Crucial Game of Year at Belton Friday

The Yoemen lost the last game of the year as well as the district championship last Friday night at Belton. Both teams were in fine condition, and the game was equal as for ground plays .The Belton group seemed to have the edge over the locals at passing.

The single Belton score was the result of a pass from Vannoy to Sherrod. The extra point was converted.

This game was the last of the season for the Yoemen with the exception of the B-Squad game with Rogers which will be played on the Yoemen field next Thursday afternoon.

EDITORIAL

A good library can be one of the most useful things in the world. Whether a library is to be useful or useless depends upon the way it is used. If we go to the library only to read funny papers or a popular Magazine, we gain little, but by reading also histories and scientific magazines, and using the reference books our library provides, we can develop our minds. Futhermore, a person who reads only to increase his knowledge is apt to develop a one sided view of life and lose not only his practical sense but also his sense of humor as well. By reading both for amusement and for knowledge can we remain normal, happy people.

Our library is now fully equipped with magazines, dramas, essays, reference books, fiction and other kinds of literature. Those books are in the library solely for the use of students of Yoe High school. Let's make our library a more useful one by visiting it more frequently and by availing ourselves of every type of literature it offers.

JUST FOR FUN

By Neill

Ask Frank Perrin and Garland Underwood if Shakespeare meant Junior candy when he said "Sweets for the Sweet."

Dorothy (visitor): "How far is it to Washington?"

George (native): "Wa—al, I don't know, but I'll call Douglas. He will know. He's traveled al over. He's got shoes."

Teacher "Mary Ellen do you have the minutes of the last meeting?"

Mary Ellen: "Why no, I haven't it."

Teacher: "What, as secretary of the class, didn't you keep a record of the last meeting?"

Mary Ellen: "O, I have a record of the meeting, but I couldn't keep the minutes because I didn't have a watch."

"Halt!" yelled the Sergeant to a new squad of recruits. But one of them marched on.

"Here, Stach, what were you doing before you joined the army," yelled the Sergeant.

"A horse driver, sir," replied Stach.

When the squad was marching again, the Sergeant cried: "Squad halt; Stach Whoa."

Miss Blanche Hensley (teacher): "Which travels the faster, heat or cold?

Woodrow Wlson (pupil): "Heat."

Teacher: What makes you think so?"

Pupil: "Because one can catch cold."

Johnny Evans (employer): "Well don't you find this office force like one big family?"

Grace T. (new stenographer): "Why, no, everyone's been quiet so far."

CAMERON ASKS FOR BI-DISTRICT GAME

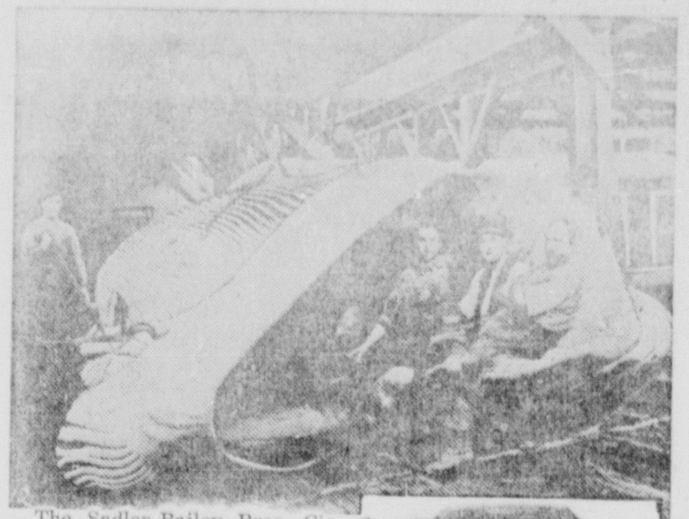
It has been announced by the office that Superintendent E. A. Perrin has invited Superintendent E. D. Johnson of Belton and Superintendent P. Barron of Yoakum to play the Bi-District game at Cameron. The railroad connections from these places would be ideal. It is hoped they will accept the invitation.

SUPERINTENDENT SOLICITS BIDS

Superintendent E. A. Perrin was in San Antonio last week for the purpose of inducing more contractors to bid on the physical education and vocational building.

The bids are to be opened Thursday, November 21 at ten a. m. in the office of the City Treasurer, Dan Tyson.

Texas' Own Circus Coming November 25



The Sadler-Bailey Bros. Circus is coming to Cameron Monday November 25th. A surprising announcement is the low cost of admission. It is a three ring circus and the people are asked to remember that the low admission price is no indication that it is a small circus. Many old friends will be glad to greet Harley Saddler, well known in Milam county. A feature of the big circus will be the personal appearance of Jack Hoxie and the management has made it possible for every child to shake hands with the big western film hero. Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Smith Will Celebrate Their 60th Wedding Anniversary With Reunion of Their Family Here On Sunday November 24

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Smith will be married 60 years Monday, November 25th, and will celebrate with a family reunion on Sunday before, when all their living children are expected to be present.

Mrs. Smth was, before her marriage Miss Viola Oxsheer, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Oxsheer, early pioneers of Texas. She is a native of Milam county and has lived practically all her life in or near Cameron. She was married at the old Oxsheer home near Cameron to H. F. Smith November 25, 1875.

Mr. Smith was born at Bastrop, Texas, and after their marriage lived on their farm near Cameron for several years, later moving to Cameron where he entered the hardware business. Later he founded the Citizens National Bank here and only a few years ago retired from active business, when his son, Oxsheer Smith, succeeded him as president of the bank.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary ten years ago with a brilliant reception that was enjoyed by scores of friends from all over the state and hundreds in Milam county. Many friends wish for them many more happy returns of the day.

W. M. S. MEET

The Methodist Missionary Society met in the home of Mrs. Lena Baskin Monday afternoon. A program was enjoyed. Mrs. W. E. Gaither introduced J. E. Johnson of Cameron who gave a talk on Haiti, which was part of the program for the study of the society and told of the interesting places and the customs of the natives. Mr. Johnson for many years lived in foreign countries and has a valuable collection of fine photographs that he made while abroad, and talks interestingly on these places.

DELPHIAN CHAPTER

The Delphian Chapter met this week with Mrs. Frank Lesovsky. A foature of the program was the presentation of Miss Alice Chaudies of Waco, who gave several of her original poems. Miss Chaudies has won fame in Texas as a high school poet. She was a guest of her aunt, Mrs. Leland Green, while in the city.

Don't Guess But Know

Whether the "Pain" Remedy You Use is SAFE?

Don't Entrust Your Own or Your Family's Well-Being to Unknown Preparations

THE person to ask whether the preparation you or your family are taking for the relief of headaches is SAFE to use regularly is your family doctor. Ask him particularly about Genuine BAYER ASPIRIN.

He will tell you that before the discovery of Bayer Aspirin most "pain" remedies were advised against by physicians as bad for the stomach and, often, for the heart. Which is food for thought if you seek quick, safe relief.

Scientists rate Bayer Aspirin among the fastest methods yet discovered for the relief of headaches and the pains of rheumatism, neuritis and neuralgia. And the experience of millions of users has proved it safe for the average person to use regularly. In your own interest remember this.

You can get Genuine Bayer Aspirin at any drug store — simply by asking for it by its full name, BAYER ASPIRIN. Make it a point to do this — and see that you get what you want.

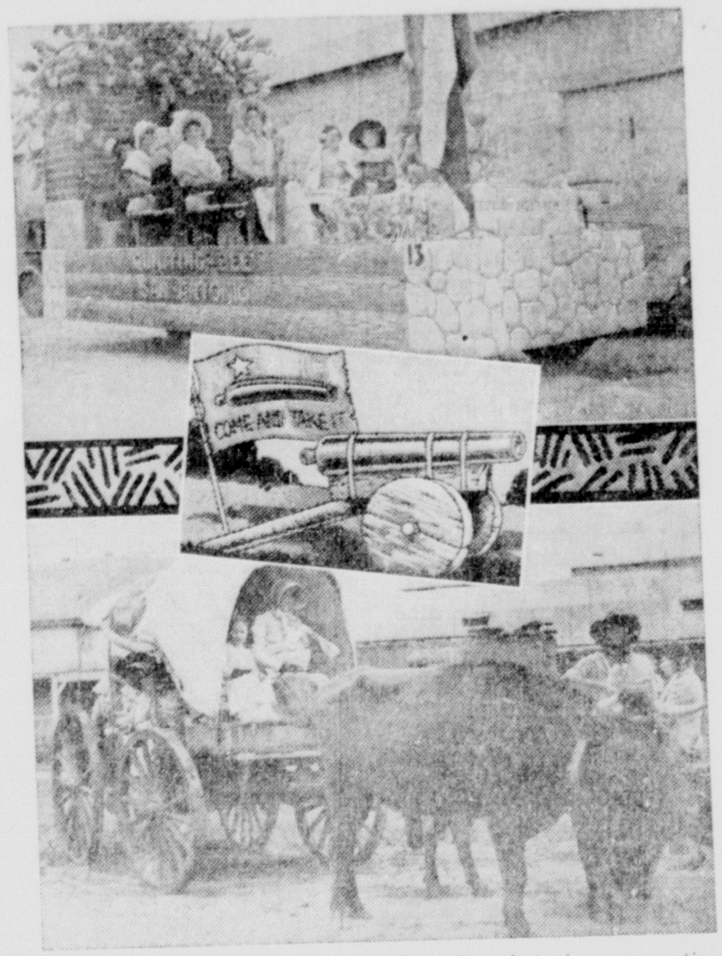
Gonzales Opens Centennial Year



Historic Gonzales Sunday closed a six day celebration that was opened November 5 with a salute from a replica of the brass cannon which on October 2, 1835, roared forth the opening shot of the war for independence. A mile long parade of colorful pageantry was witnessed by more than 30,000 persons, including state dignitaries and many persons prominent in civic and official life of Texas and the Southwest. Pictured top above is a float entered in the parade from San Antonio, representing an early day sewing bee. In the center is reproduced the challenging "Come and Take It" flag carried into the battle by the colonists, and the cannon. Below is an entry in the "Run Away Scrape" section of the parade. The historical observance opened at Gonzales will be continued through the year in celebrations in San Antonio, Houston, Fort Worth and other Texas Cities, and in the magnificent exposition to be opened in Dallas next June.

COTTON REPORT

There were 24,731 bales of cotton ginned in Milam county from the crop of 1935 prior to November 1, as compared to 36,540 for the same period last year.

Residents of Columbus, Ohio, have been instructed to wrap their garbage. Attractive hampers of egg shells and melon rinds are to be the mark of the City Beautiful.

SUE ELLA TYSON

It is the wish of the writer to express a few words of tribute to Sue Ella Tyson, our dear one who suddenly left us Monday, November 11, 1935, and whose going has left us with sad hearts.

For only twenty-three years she was with us and she was like a sweet flower which had just opened to lovely blossoming and then was taken away just as we were enjoying most of its delightful beauty and fragrance.

She was bright and quick to learn and had thoroughly fitted herself to assume her responsibilities in life. She had many friends who loved her dearly and they can find no one to take her place. Only a few months ago her next older sister whom she almost idolized, passed away, and Sue Ella has been such a help and comfort to her sorrowing family. Now it seems more than saddened hearts can bear when we realze that she, too, is gone.

As we say goodbye to Sue Ella, so sweet, so dear, so precious, in our bewildered grief we ask "Why, oh why, must this be?" But we can only pray for courage to go on from day to day, as we look forward to the time when we shall see her bright face once more.

In the cold moist earth we laid her
When the forest cast the leaf
And we wept that one so lovely
Should have a life so brief.

Yet not unmeet it was that one,
Like this young friend of ours,
So gentle and so beautiful
Should perish with the flowers.

—Her Cousin.

Laxative combination folks know is trustworthy

The confidence thousands of parents have in good, old reliable, powdered Thedford's Black-Draught has prompted them to get the new Syrup of Black-Draught for their children. The grown folks stick to the powdered Black-Draught; the youngsters probably will prefer it when they outgrow their childish love of sweets. Mrs. C. W. Adams, of Murray, Ky., writes: "I have used Thedford's Black-Draught (powder) about thirteen years, taking it for biliousness. Black-Draught acts well and I am always pleased with the results. I wanted a good, reliable laxative for my children. I have found Syrup of Black-Draught to be just that."

CORDIE MAE HENSON

All hearts were saddened when the news reached here that Cordie Mae Henson, 18, of Norman Valley community, died in Cameron Saturday morning at eleven o'clock, a victim of typhoid fever.

Miss Henson had been living in Norman Valley several years where she numbered friends by the score. She will be missed by a large circle of friends. To know her was to love her.

She leaves to mourn her loss, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Henson, eight brothers, Dan, Duck, Tommy, John, Pleas, Carl, Marvin and Jim all of Norman Valley; two sisters, Mark and Mrs. Lee Adley of Corinth.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Ward of Sharp, and burial was made in the Salem cemetery where the casket rested beneath a bower of flowers.

Our sympathy goes out to all her loved ones.

A Friend,

Welding

. . . the best way to make a perfect union of two pieces of metal is by welding them together.

. . . and the best way to get a more pleasing flavor and a better taste in a cigarette is by welding together the different types of tobacco . . .

That is just what we do in making CHESTERFIELD Cigarettes—the three types of mild ripe home-grown tobaccos, that is tobaccos grown in this country, are welded together. Then they are welded with aromatic Turkish.

When these tobaccos are welded together you get a combined flavor which is entirely different from any one type of tobacco.

It is this welding of the right amounts of the right kind of tobaccos that makes CHESTERFIELD a milder and better-tasting cigarette.

How to Keep Colds
UNDER better CONTROL

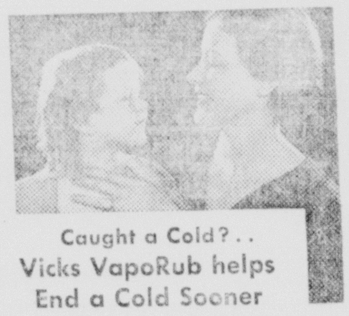
Catching Cold? . .
Vicks Va-tro-nol helps Prevent many Colds

At the first warning nasal irritation, sniffle or sneeze, use Vicks Va-tro-nol—just a few drops up each nostril. Va-tro-nol is especially designed for the nose and upper throat—where most colds start. It stimulates Nature's own functions—in the nose—to help prevent colds, and to throw off head colds in their early stages. Used in time, Va-tro-nol helps avoid many colds.



Caught a Cold? . .
Vicks VapoRub helps End a Cold Sooner

If a cold has developed, rub Vicks VapoRub on throat and chest at bedtime. VapoRub acts direct—two ways at once: (1) By stimulation through the skin like a poultice or plaster; (2) By inhalation of its medicated vapors direct to inflamed air-passages. Through the night, this combined vapor-poultice action loosens phlegm, soothes irritation, helps break congestion.

Follow Vicks Plan for Better Control of Colds

A helpful guide to fewer colds and shorter colds. Developed by Vicks Chemists and Medical Staff; tested in extensive clinics by practicing physicians—further proved in everyday home use by millions. The Plan is fully explained in each Vicks package.

MASTERS JAMES AND BILLY STORRS

You know I have two boys growing up
They'e getting on in years
In fact they're almost grown up men and are losing their childish fears.

They're no longer afraid of the dark
of a room,
And sounds they hear in the night,
No longer afraid to go to the barn,
When the day has lost its light.

No longer believe in hobgoblins
And mythical ghosts who walk.
No longer afraid of a sudden night
noise,
Or a chicken's frightened squawk.

But soon they'll come to their other fears,
And they be fears which debase—
The fear to be just and tolerant;
The fear to acknowledge God's grace.

The fear to be yourselves my boys,
And not what the world may say;
To be afraid to call a halt
if you find the party too gay.

To be not afraid to love mother,
And tell her so each day;
To lighten her burdens with laughter,
And make her heart glad with your play.

These be the things, dear sons of mine
Which count in the game of life,
And if you have courage to meet them,
You will surely win in the strife.

—Roy Storrs.

Marking Milam County's Historic Spots

By BERENICE McCLAREN

OLD NASHVILLE

(This article was contributed by Mrs. Jeff T. Kemp, Cameron)

Old Nashville was the home of the first pioneers of Milam county and was established in 1834 by Major Sterling C. Robertson, of Nashville, Tennessee.

When in 1821 Mexico achieved her independence from Spain it became the mecca of many adventurous young men. Mr. Robertson was among the number and turned his eyes toward Texas. In 1823 he made a tour of the Mexican State of Texas, and was charmed by the beauty of the scenery and the richness of the land. When he returned to Nashville, Tennessee, he at once began planning to settle in the new El Dorado.

He enlisted a number of his friends and acquaintances in the organization of a company to establish a colony in Texas. Upon his arrival, he established his headsuarters at a point on the Brazos near the present town of Marlin. He also established a settlement lower down on the Brazos and located a townsite which he called Nashville in honor of his birthplace. This was to be a point from which settlers were t obe distributed to such sections of the colony tract as they might choose. This village was located on a bluff on the west bank of the Brazos river just above where the International & Great Northern railroad crosses the Brazos south of Hearne. Here he built substantial forts, etc., as protection against Indian assaults and it soon grew to be an important point. Supplies were distributed from this point.

The village of Nashville consisted of an aggregation of small log and board houses erected near the river buff. Some of the log dwellings were double pens without hall between, some with halls (dirt floor); other single pens, some were hewn, others unhewn logs. A few were framed and weatherboarded with whipsawed sidng and openings between logs were chinked and daubed. The village was small, not over 15 or 20 families.

In old Nashville, the first county was organized in February, 1837, with the folowing officers: Massolin Farley, county judge; John Beal, Sheriff; W. D. Thomson, county clerk. Following were the postmasters of the old town of Nashville from establishment of the postal service in the early forties until as a post office it was discontinued in 1868: Wm. D. Thomson, May 22,1846; Alex C. Thomson, December 19, 1851; T. M. Anderson, April 9, 1861; Thomas Miller, May 28, 1867; Gottfried, July 31, 1868.

In 1839 Nashville was in the competition for the State Capital when the city of Austin was selected. General Thomas J. Chambers was so anxious for Nashville to be chosen that he offered to donate two leagues of land as a bonus and W. D. Thomson, county clerk, offered sixty acres of land for the capital site.

Rev. Z. M. Morrill was one of the early Baptist preachers in that section and lived in Marlin. He described a scene in Nashvillle as follows: "In 1837 our crop on the Brazos was cultivated under a guard of soldiers. I ventured down to Nashville and all the people in the settlement that could, turned out to preaching in a little log cabin, with dirt floor. Just about the time we closed the serivces on Sunday the Indians dashed upon us and killed two men in sight of the congregation. Preachers and people carried weapons with them to the house of God in those days. We instantly changed the services into war with the Indians. Every man was immediately mounted and off with guns in hand on Sunday evening in full pursuit of the Indians but they escaped up Little River."

The Methodist church in Nashville was established early by Alexander Thomson and had the following preachers assigned as recorded in the minutes of the Texas Conference: 1839, J. Sneed; 1840, Robert Crawford; 1845, P. M. Yell. Rev. J. Sneed after long and arduous labors as an itenerant preacher in Texas now rests in the old cemetery near his old homestead near Baileyville. Rev. P. M. Yell was the noted relative of County Judge Joe Y. McNutt of Robertson. Another noted Methodist Circuit rider who served Nashville was the Rev. James E. Ferguson, father of ex-governor James E. Ferguson.

Some of the most distinguished early Texans lied in Old Nashville. The town was laid out by General Thomas J. Chambers who had an eleven league grant embracing the site.

One of the most honored citizens of Nashville was the author of the Texas Declaration of Independence, George Campbell Childress, a cultured lawyer and nephew of Sterling C. Robertson, founder of the town.

Mother, I can't Study—My head hurts!

As a usual thing, he is "such a regular guy." He comes home from school full of pep and energy. Of course you want him that way always. But are you protecting his health and safety during the few short months of winter when he must spend his evenings indoors?

That uncomfortable "stuffy" feeling . . . dullness . . . lowered vitality . . . headache—these are some of nature's ways of complaining against improper heating and insufficient ventilation. These are the warning signals that America's Public Health Enemy Number One, the common cold germ, has found another fertile field in which to attack. For your health's sake and that of your loved ones do not wait for these definite signs of warning that the air indoors has become stale. Keep the air you breathe constantly purified with fresh oxygen through adequate ventilation in every room in the house.

Tune in each Thursday night at 6:30, WFAA-WBAP, for vital facts to help you guard your family against the common cold germ.

Without oxygen man cannot live. Without oxygen, fuel cannot burn. Therefore, if your family "huddles" in one or two rooms around an open flame heater during cold weather with the doors and windows tightly closed, you are violating all the rules of nature, good health and good heating. Sooner or later the occupants of the room and the burning fuel reduce the oxygen content to the point where the room air becomes stale. Without adequate ventilation and circulation the air indoors may become as foul and unhealthy as that of the tenement slums of large cities, even though your home may be the most beautiful in the neighborhood.

A simple and easy method of providing a constant circulation of fresh air is found by opening a window in each room a few inches from the top and bottom. Connecting doors left open between adjoining rooms when the entire house is adequately heated provide a natural circulation of pure warm air from one room to another. Incidentally, fresh, pure air is easier and more economical to heat than "stale" air.

Guard the health of your loved ones with adequate heat and proper ventilation of pure air in every room in the house.

DAY AND NIGHT

NEW families . . new homes . . new stores . . new factories . . improved homes . . growing families . . bigger and better stores . . expanding factories . . all forms of growth and change in the life of a community add to the demand for more electric service.

New and better electrical devices are daily put into use in more homes, stores, places of business and industry. They "get the job done" with greater ease, comfort and convenience . . and, for less money. At the same time they call for more electric power.

Life is movement. The life of a community is never at a standstill. All of it demands more electric service. A surprisingly large amount of it depends upon the constant availability of dependable, low-cost electric service.

It is easy to see, therefore, that the Texas Power & Light Company can not build its equipment to supply only today's demands. Tomorrow's demands will be bigger than today's. They must be provided for . . they must be foreseen, so that, regardless of the increase in size of a community, and in the activity of the people, adequate electric power will be available to answer all demands.

"Growing Pains" of Our Own

Inventors and scientists are steadily perfecting better methods of producing and distributing electric power. Yesterday's equipment is frequently made obsolete by the perfection of a newer method. The use of these newer methods sometimes makes it possible for us to lower the cost of Texas Power & Light service. Therefore, we must use the highest degree of engineering skill and foresight to take advantage of better methods with the least amount of loss through discarding of obsolete equipment.

This alertness, this "stickin'-to-the-job," has made Texas Power & Light service unexcelled anywhere. During the past ten years the average cost of residential lighting service has been lowered more than 35 per cent to Texas Power & Light customers. Yes, the Stork, the Builder, Dan Cupid, the Mover, and the Inventor have kept us on the jump, resulting in better and cheaper electric service to our customers.

Don't blame this big fellow for strutting. He will represent the Texas Centennial celebrations on President Roosevelt's Thanksgiving table—that is, if he wins over a few thousand like him that are competing for the honor in a section-wide "Turkey Derby" at Brady, West Texas capital of this flourishing industry. The President has just announced his intention of visiting Texas next summer, and here's his reward for "talking turkey" about the Centennial. Anyway, when Texas gives the President the bird—that's news!

Devil Fish Feature of Whale Show Here Nov. 26

One of the most interesting species of marine life is the big devil fish which wll be on exhibition here in conjunction with the showing of "Collossus," the giant whale, in a special constructed railroad car near night only Tuesday November 26.

This animal is known as the Octopus or devil fish and one of the most hated animals that dwell in the deep waters. An interesting account of the capture of this specimen is given by Captain David J. Barnett, who is in charge of the exhibit, and who is a veteran whaling commander and seaman.

After harpooning the whale, "Captain Dave" as the men call him, says that the first job is to send men down to fasten chains around him to pull him to the boat. "We had just harpooned a small whale in Conception Bay, just off Belle Island I had sent two men of my crew out in a small boat to fasten the chains on the whale and only a short distance from the killer ship, a dark shapeless mass floating upon the surface of the water was noticed by one of the seamen. Concluding that it was a part of a cargo of some wrecked vessel, they approached, anticipating a valuable prize, and one of the men struck the object with his boathook. Upon receiving the shock the dark heap become suddenly animated. The men were petrified with terror, and for a moment so fascinated by the horrible sight as to be powerless to stir.

Before they had time to recover their presence of mind, the monster now but a few feet from the boat, suddenly shot out from around its head several long arms of corpse-like fleshness grappling with them for the boat and seeking to envelope it in its folds. Only two of these arms reached the the craft and, owing to their length, went completely over it and beyond the boat.

"Seizing his hatchet, one of the men succeeded in severing one of the arms and the creature finding itself worsted, put up a terriffic battle, but was captured after several of the crew came to the assistance of the two men."

The Huge Whale and Marine Exhibit will be here November 26 and will be open from 10 a. m. until 11 p. m.one day and night only.
